SPECTATORS, VOL. I.

Nº 1.

*E makes Light follow Smoke, not Smoke
the Light,
That he from thence may with new Wonder strike.*

2. The same Complaint make t'other six or more.

Nº3. Et Quoi quisque ferè studio devinctus adhæret :
 Aut quibus in rebus multùm sumus antè morati,
 Atque in quâ ratione fuit contenta magis mens ;
 In somnis eadem plerùmque videmur obire.

Lucr. l. 4.

4. ——— Egregii mortalem, altique silenti ?

Hor. 2 S. 6. 58.

5. Spectatum admissi risum teneatis ?

Hor. Ar. Poet. 5.

6 Credebant hoc grande nefas, & mortepiandum,
 Si Juvenis vetulo non affurrexerat ———

Juv. S. 13. 54.

7. Somnia terrores magicos, miracula sagas,
 Nocturnos, lemures, portentaque Thessala rides ?

Hor. Ep. 2. 208.

8. At Venus obscuro gradientes aëre sepsit,
 Et multo nebulae circum Dea fudit amictu,
 Cernere ne quis eos ———

Virg. Æ. 1. 415.

9. ——— Tigris agit rapidâ cum Tigride pacem
 Perpetuam, sævis inter se convenit Urfis.

Juv. S. 15. 162.

10. Non aliter quàm qui adverso vix flumine lembum
 Remigiis subigit : si brachia fortè remisit,
 Atque illum in præceps pronò rapit alveus amni.

Virg. G. 1. 201.

11. Dat veniam Corvis, vexat censura Columbas.

Juv. S. 2. 63.

12. ——— Veteres avias tibi de Pulmone revello.

Perf. S. 5. 92.

13. Dic mihi si fueris tu Leo, qualis eris ?

Mart.

14. ——— Teque his, infœlix, exue monstis.

Ovid. M 4. 591.

15. Parva leves capiunt animos ———

Ovid.

16. Quid verum atque decens curo & rogo, & omnis in hoc sum.

Hor. 1 Ep. 1. 11.

17. ——— Tetrum ante omnia vultum

Juv. S. 10. 191.

- N<sup>o</sup>.3. *Thus often, while the Body lies oppress'd
With heavy Sleep, the Mind seems loos'd from rest;
Because those Images do strike and shake
The aery Soul, as when we were awake.*
4. A Man of profound Taciturnity!
5. At such a Sight can he forbear to laugh?
6. *Had not young Men the hoary Heads rever'd,
Or Boys paid reverence where a Man appeared,
Both worthy Death were thought——*
7. *At Magic Miracles, Hobboblins, Dreams,
And the Portents of Thessaly do'st laugh?*
8. *They march obscure, for Venus kindly shrouds
With Mists their Persons, and involves in Clouds,
That none might see them——*
9. *Tyger with Tyger, Bear with Bear, you'll find
In Leagues offensive and defensive join'd.*
10. *So the Boats Crew against the Current row,
But if they slack their Hands, or cease to strive,
Down with the Flood, with headlong haste, they drive.*
11. Clips the Dove's Wings, and gives the Vulture Course.
12. *——— While thy Mind I free
From these odd Notions ——*
13. Tell me if thou wert a Lion what kind a one you would be?
14. Unhappy Man these Monsters quit.
15. Light Minds, are taken with little things.
16. *I now design to seek what's good and true,
And that alone———*
17. Above all a rough Visage.

Nº 18. — Equitis quoque jam migravit ab aure voluptas
Omnis ad incertos oculos & gaudia vana.

Hor. 2 Ep. 1. 187.

19. Dibene fecerunt, inopis me quòdque pusilli
Finxerunt animi, rarò & perpauca loquentis.

Hor. 1 S. 4. 187

20. ————— Κύν & ὄμμαϊ' ἔχων —————

Homer.

21. ————— Locus est & pluribus umbris.

Hor. 1 Ep. 5. 23.

22. Quodcunque ostendis mihi sic, incredulus odi.

Hor. Ar. Poet. 188.

23. Sæviti atrox Volscens, nec teli conspiciusquam
Auctorem, nec quò se ardens immittere possit.

Virg. Æn. 20. 49.

24. Accurrit quidam notus mihi nomine tantum;
Arreptaque manu, quid agis dulcissime rerum?

Hor. 1 S. 9. 3.

25. ————— Ægrefcitque medendo.

Virg. Æ. 12. 46.

26. Pallida mors æquo pulsat pede pauperum Tabernas
Regumque Turres, O beate Sexti!
Vitæ summa brevis spem nos vetat inchoare longam.
Jam te premet nox, fabulæque Manes,
Et domus exilis Plutonia: —————

Hor. 1 Od. 413.

27. Ut nox longa quibus mentitur amica, diesque
Longa videtur opus debentibus, ut piger annus
Pupillis, quos dura premit custodia matrum;
Sic mihi tarda fluunt ingrataque tempora, quæ spem
Consiliumque morantur agendi gnaviter, id quod
Æquè pauperibus prodest, locupletibus æquè,
Æquè neglectum pueris senibusque nocebit.

Hor. 1 Ep. 1. 20.

28. ————— Neque semper arcum
Tendit Apollo.

Hor. 2 Od. 10. 19.

29. ————— Sermo linguâ concinnus utraque
Suavior, ut Chio nota si commista Falerni est.

Hor. 1 S. 10. 24.

- N<sup>o</sup> 18. *Now our Nobles too are Fops and Vain,
Neglect the Sense, but love the painted Scene ;*
19. *I thank the Gods, who form'd my humble Mind
Lowly and meek, and sparing in Discourse.*
20. Having Dog's Eyes.
21. There's room enough for more such Guests.
22. I hate such wild improbable Romance.
23. *Fierce Volscens foams with Rage, and gazing round
Descry'd not him, who gave the fatal Wound,
Nor knew to fix Revenge —*
24. *A Fop came up, by name scarce known to me,
He seiz'd my Hand, and cry'd, Dear Sir, how d'ye ?*
25. ——— By being cur'd grows sick.
26. *Intruding Death, with equal freedom, greets
The low-built Huts, and stately Gates
Of lofty Palaces, and Royal Seats.
Be wise, O Sestius ! to prolong forbear,
Since Life is short, thy Hopes and Care:
The fabled Shades, and gloomy State draw near.*
27. *As Night to those their Mistress's sails appears?
As Days to Labourers ; and as long the Years,
When jealous Mothers curb, too eager Heirs :
So dull and so ingrate my time does flow,
Which hinders what I hope and wish to do :
What done will profit Rich and Poor, what long
Forborn, prove equal harm to Old and Young.* }
28. Nor does Apollo always bend his Bow.
29. *The Speech thus mixt, is sweet, and fine
As Chian mixt with right Falernian Wine.*

Nº. 30. Si, Mimnermus uti censet, sine amore jocisque
Nil est jucundum ; vivas in amore jocisque.

Hor. 1 Ep. 6. 65.

31. — Sit mihi fas audita loqui —

Virg. Æ. 6. 265.

32. Nil illi Larvâ aut tragicis opus esse Cothurnis.

Hor. 1. S. 5. 64.

33. Fervidus tecum Puer, & solutis
Gratiæ Zonis, properantque nymphæ,
Et parùm comis sine te juvenus,
Mercuriusque

Hor. 1 O 30. 5.

34. ————— Parcit

Cognatis maculis similis fera ———

Juv. S. 15. 160.

35. Risu inepto res ineptior nulla est.

Mart.

36. ————— Immania monstra

Perferimus —————

Virg. Æ. 3. 583.

37. — Non illa colo calathifve Minervæ
Fœmineas assueta manus ———

Virg. Æ. 7. 805.

38. — Cupias non placuisse nimis.

39. Multa fero, ut placem genus irritabile vatum,
Cum scribo —————

Hor. 2 Ep. 2. 102.

40. Ac ne fortè putes, me, quæ facere ipse recusem,
Cum rectè tractant alii, laudare malignè ;
Ille per extentum funem mihi posse videtur
Ire Poeta, meum qui pectus inanitèr angit,
Irritat, mulcet, falsis terroribus implet,
Ut magus ; & modò me Thebis, modò ponit
Athenis.

Hor. 2 Ep. 1. 208.

41. ————— Tu non inventa reperta es

Ovid. M. 1. 654.

42. Garganum mugire putes nemus aut mare Thuscum,
Tanto cum strepitu ludi spectantur, & artes,
Divitiæque peregrinæ ; quibus oblitus actor,
Cum stetit in Scena, concurrat dextera lævæ.

Nº 30.

- N<sup>o</sup> 30. *If nothing as Mimnermus strives to prove,
Can e'er be pleasant without Sport or Love,
Then live in wanton Love, thy Sports pursue :*
31. Grant what I've heard I may relate.
32. *No Vizor doth he need, for he is rough,
And Nature's giv'n him Uglinefs enough.*
33. *The Graces with their Zones unlos'd,
The Nymphs their Beauties all expos'd,
Thy powerful, hot, and winged Boy,
And Youth that's dull without thy Joy,
And Mercury compose thy Train.*
34. From spotted Skins the Leopard does refrain.
35. Nothing is more silly than an ill-tim'd Laugh.
36. We endure terrible Monsters.
37. Unbred to Spinning, in the Loom unskill'd.
38. Affect not to please too much.
39. *A thousand things I suffer, to assuage
The wasping Poets, and to cool their Rage.*
40. *But lest you think, that I, who write no Plays,
Or envy their Design, or poorly praise ;
I fairly grant those Poets Wit, that rule
My Passions as they please, disturb my Soul,
And then by a short Turn my Thoughts relieve.
Whose lively Fiction makes me laugh or grieve ;
Whose well-wrought Scenes, nat'ral and just appear,
I see the Place, and fancy I am there.*
41. Unfound thou'rt found.
42. *As when the Winds dash Waves against the Shore,
Or lash the Woods, and all the Monsters roar ;
So great the Skout, when rich and strangely dress'd,
The Player comes, they clap his gaudy Vest.*

Nº. Dixit adhuc aliquid? nil sane. Quid placet ergo?
Lana Tarentino violas imitata veneno.

Hor. 2 Ep. 1. 202.

43. Hæ tibi erunt artes; pacisque imponere morem,
Parcere subjectis, & debellare superbos.

Virg. Æ. 6. 52.

44. Tu, quid ego & populus mecum desideret, audi

Hor. Ar. Poet. 153.

45. Natio comæda est ———

Juv. S. 3. 100.

46. Non bene junctarum discordia semina rerum.

Ovid. M. 1. 9.

47. Ride si sapis ———

Mart.

48. ——— Per multas aditum sibi sæpè figuras
Repperit ———

Ovid.

49. ——— Hominem pagina nostra sapit.

Mart.

50. Nunquam aliud Natura, aliud Sapientia dixit.

Juv. S. 4. 321.

51. Torquet ab obscænis jam nunc sermonibus aurem.

Hor. 2 Ep. 1. 127.

52. Omnes ut tecum meritis pro talibus annos
Exigat, & pulchra faciat te prole parentem.

Virg. Æ. 1. 78.

53. ——— Aliquando bonus dormitat Homerus.

Hor. Ar. Poet. 359.

54. Strenua nos exercet inertia ———

Hor. 1 Ep. 11. 2º.

55. ——— Intus, & in jecore ægro
Nascuntur Domini ———

Pers. S. 5. 130.

56. Felices errore suo ———

Lucan.

57. Quem præstare potest mulier galeata pudorem,
Quæ fugit à Sexu?

Juv. S. 6. 251.

58. Ut pictura Poësis erit ———

Hor. Ar. Poet. 361.

- N<sup>o</sup>. *Well, hath the Actor spoken? not a Line:
Why then d'ye clap? Oh, Sir, his Cloaths are fine.*
43. *To tame the Proud, the fetter'd Slave to free,
These are imperial Arts, and worthy thee.*
44. *But then observe ———
This I, and all as well as I expect.*
45. The Nation is a Comedy.
46. Where ill-cemented Seeds in Discord jarr.
47. Laugh if thou art wise
48. Through many Shapes he often finds one that will bit himself
49. Our Book savours of the Man.
50. Nature never said one thing and Wisdom another.
51. And turn his Ear from all obscene Discourse.
52. *For these thy great Deserts she shall be thine;
And make thee Father of a happy Line.*
53. And sometimes mighty Homer dreams.
54. A busy Idleness destroys our Ease.
55. Thy Passions lord it in thy Breast.
56. Happy in their Error.
57. *What Sense of Shame in such a Breast can lie?
Innur'd to Arms, and her own Sex to fly?*
58. Poetry should be like Painting.

Nº 59. Operosè nihil agunt——

Seneca.

60. Hoc est quod palles? cur quis non prandeat hoc est?

Perf. S. 3. 85.

61. Non equidem studeo, bullatis ut mihi nugis

Pagina turgescat; dare pondus idonea fumo.

Per. S. 5. 19.

62. Scribendi recte sapere est & principium & fons.

Hor. Ar. Poet. 309.

63. Humano capiti cervicem pictor equinam

Jungere si velit, & varias inducere plumas,

Undique collatis membris, ut turpiter atrum

Desinat in piscem mulier formosa superne;

Spectatum admissi risum teneatis, amici?

Credite, Pisones, isti tabulae fore librum

Perfimilem, cujus, velut ægri somnia, vanæ

Finguntur species——

Hor. Ar. Poet. 1.

64. ——— Hic vivimus ambitiosâ

Paupertate omnes——

Juv. S. 3. 182.

65. ——— Demetri, teque Tigelli

Discipularum inter jubeo plorare Cathedras.

Hor. 1. S. 10. 90.

66. Motus doceri gaudet Ionicos

Matura Virgo, & fingitur artubus

Jam nunc, & incestos amores

De tenero meditatur ungui.

Hor. 3 O. 6. 21.

67. Saltare elegantius quàm necesse est probæ.

Sal

68. Nos duo turba sumus ——

Ovid. 1. M. 355.

69. Hic segetes, illic veniunt felicius uvæ;

Arborei foetus alibi, atque injussa virescunt

Gramina. Nonne vides, croceos ut Tmolus odores,

India mittit ebur, molles sua Thura Sabæi?

N<sup>o</sup> 59. Laboriously idle.

60. ——— *Is it for this that you grow pale,
And miss the Pleasures of a glorious Meal?*
61. 'Tis not indeed my Talent to engage
*In lofty Trifles, or to swell my Page
With Wind and Noise ———*
62. *Of writing well these are the chiefest Springs
To know the Nature and the Use of things.*
63. *Suppose a Painter should a Canvas spread,
To draw a Piece, and paint a Woman's Head,
Then a Mare's Neck, and then from diff'rent things
Take different Parts, and cover all with Wings:
Then a Fish Tail; pursue his senseless Thought,
And mix the whole Creation in a Draught,
And all these Parts, in strange proportion, join;
Would you not laugh to see this wild Design?
Believe me, Sirs, that Book is like this Piece,
Where every Part so strangely disagrees.
Like sick Men's Dreams 'tis strange confusion all.*
- [ 64. Here all are poor and yet ambitious live.
65. *I scorn Tigellius and Demetrius Noise, ———
Dull Blockheads! let them pipe among their Boys,
And mind their Schools ———*
66. *The blooming Virgin, ripe for Man,
A thousand wanton Airs displays:
Train'd to the Dance, her well-wrought Limbs she moves,
And sates her wishing Soul with loose incestuous Loves.*
67. She danc'd with an Elegance unbecoming Modesty.
68. We two are all ———
69. *This Ground with Bacchus, that with Ceres suits:
That other loads the Trees with happy Fruits.
A fourth with Grass, unbidden decks the Ground:
Thus Tmolus is with yellow Saffron crown'd:
India, Black Ebon and white Ivory bears,
And soft Idume weeps her od'rous Tears.*

73. A Goddess sure —————
74. The Works unfinish'd lye —————
75. All Fortune fitted Aristippus well.
76. We will bear you, as you your Fortune bear.
77. We must not live together, nor is there one in the City so near and so far off.
78. While you are thus I wish you were ours.
79. Good Men hate to commit a Fault out of the Love
 they have to Virtue.
80. Those that beyond Sea go, shall find
 They change their Climate only, not their Mind.

Nor need'st thou take the Gods aside to hear:
While others, ev'n the mighty Men of Rome,
Bigswell'd with Mischief to the Temples come,
And in low Murmurs, and with costly Smoak,
Heav'n's Help to prosper their black Vows, invoke
So boldly to the Gods Mankind reveal,
What from each other they, for shame, conceal.
Give me good Fame, ye Pow'rs, and make me just:
Thus much the Rogue to publick Ears will trust:
In private then: — When wilt thou mighty Jove,
My wealthy Uncle from this World remove?
Or — O thou Thunderer's Son, great Hercules,
That once thy bounteous Deity would please
To guide my Rake, upon the chinking Sound,
Of some vast Treasure hidden under Ground!*
